

Jane E.Hall 'The Art of Embroidered Butterflies'

A talk in aid of the Sambhali Trust

at

Hawkers Farm, Stour Provost, Gillingham, Dorset, SP8 5LZ
Saturday 4th May, 10.30 for 11 am.

'The miraculous beauty of my subject has commanded great concentration artistically. Working entirely by hand I employ painting, modelling and embroidery techniques to consider their closest detail. Working with the aid of magnification I represent the minute scales, which adorn their wings, employing the finest of silk threads and delicate hand made embroidery needles. I also carefully considered their beautiful and varied habitats; bluebell woods, summer meadows... even the secret corners of my garden shed. So too I delight in observing their miraculous life cycle; from egg to pupae to butterfly on the wing', gathering in and nurturing countless hungry caterpillars from the our meadow and watching their metamorphosis in awe' Jane E.Hall

www.sambhali-trust.org

Proceeds from Jane's talk will go towards buying sewing machines for the Sambhali Trust. These are donated to women and girls who have completed a year's training, including sewing and embroidery skills, at the Trust's Empowerment Centre in Jodhpur, Rajasthan.

Tickets £15 or £20 (to include a light lunch) and the chance to see a collection of embroidered panels done by students, staff and volunteers in February 2019 at Sambhali Trust, Jodhpur, Rajasthan. .

Contacts: Isobel Scott-Clarke \(iso13@me.com\)

Jane E. Hall \(jane.e.hall@btinternet.com\)

Jennifer Morisetti \(jennymorisetti@hotmail.com\)